LA BRETAGNE'S CRASH.

SHE RUNS HALF WAY THROUGH A PIER.

ON THE STEAMER. The big French steamship Bretagne while trying to get out of port yesterday morning went crashing into the new extension of the pier at Franklin-st, and the North River. The pier was cut halfway through and the steamer badly damaged. Fortunately no one was killed or even hurt. See Bretagne left her pier at Morton-st. shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning bound for Havee, with about 100 cabin pas engers on board. Sh over toward the Hoboken shore, while a strong ebb tide flewing nown the river and a paffing tug assisted to turn her head toward the Narrows. It was a misty morning, but objects on both shores could be seen distinctly. As soon as tug cest off and the pilot signalled to go ahead at full speed. The great ship started diagonally for the New-York shore, the tide carrying her lown stream rapidly. The helm was ported, who was on the bridge, said to the pilot that they were getting in dangerous proximity to the New-York piers. The pilot, Marshall B. White, rethe ship to turn as she had good steerage way on. Then the tilot ordered the helm hard a-port. The ship obeyed her helm slowly and it was evident that she would strike the Franklin-st.

HEAVY TIMBERS SENT FLYING-GREAT ALARM

The pilot signalled to back her, but the ship's momentum was so great, and the tide was running so strongly, that almost before she began to feel the reversed action of her screw she struck the great excitement on the pier and great excitement on the steamer for a time. There was a sound of smashing timbers and breaking and rending iron. The steamer backed away clear of the wrecked ped and torn. Most of the passengers were as breakfast when the collision took place, but a few were on deck waving a farewell to their friends on board. When La Bretangne struck the pier she careened sharply to starboard, and that, with the shock, brought everybody on deck.

The pier struck is occupied principally by the Homer Ramsdell Transportation Company, which runs small boats up the Hudson. One or two small steamers were lying at the pier at the time, and it looked at first as if La Bretagne was going Bird was injured about her upper works by the timbers of the pier, which the big steamer sent flying. La Bretagne struck the pier about twenty feet from its outer end. On the end of the wharf were two trucks, and she cut so far in that the chasm had to be bridged over after the accident in order to enable the trucks to get to the shore, The steamer after the collision returned to her pler, and it will take ten days to put her in a condition to leave it again. There was about ten plates stove in and ripped in her bows, and when she backed away she carried pieces of the pier sticking out from the holes in her. On the portside the plates were smashed in. On the star board side they were ripped upward and outward Fortunately all the damage was above the water line. The outer end of the pier was knocked, as a sailor would say, "galley west and crooked. The loss to the steamer, including her detention, will amount to about $50,000. The cost of ripping out the damaged extension of the pier and rebuilding it will be about $25,000. Altogether it was an expensive crash. The work of repairing the steamer was begun yesterday afternoon. Nineteen of La Bretagne's passengers were transferred to the Cunard steamship Aurania, which sailed later in the day. The others will sail on La Bourgogne, which is due here to-day, and will be sent gogne, which is due here to-day, and will be sent out again on Wednesday. The mails on La Brestagne were transferred to the Aurania. The cabin passengers on La Bretagne were as follows: George F. Bradley, Robert Berkermans. Samuel L. Crocker, B. Glenny, J. B. Hixon, W. H. Johnson, J. Land, J. Livingston, Loon Neuville, Victor Ollivon, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Passavant, Henry Ffaltz, John Perham, C. E. Pratt, Edmond Quevit, J. Rutgers Leroy, E. M. Rathbone, A. ### CABLE CARS TO RUN BY MARCH 1.

For many a long month the Broadway and Third superintendent Commings to tour down the electrical varieties being sufficient for the Third-ave, line. The work of construction is almost fluished, one menth, it is estimated, being sufficient for the completion of the sections near the Postoffice and at Sixty-fifth-st. Of the 200 cars that are to be put into operation 190 have already been turned over to the company. Of the two powerhouses, that at Sixty-fifth-st, is well under way and will be fluished long before the line can be put into operation. Its erection was made comparatively cass by the fact that the great driving wheels are to be on the first floor of the building. In the power-bouse at the Bowery and Bayard-st, it was found necessary to make a forty-foot exenvation on a surface of mere than 20,000 square feel.

The Ilayard-st, power-bouse is now up to the level of the street. To make room for the enormous operating wheel underground, it is saided that more than 1,000,000 ordize feet of sand were removed from the exavation, and 5,000,000 bricks were put into it. The hadron and 5,000,000 bricks were put into it. The hadron and 5,000,000 bricks were not had been sufficiently and the machinery will rest upon the interior walls, which are necessfluidy of extraordinary strength, some of them being thirteen feet in thickness. The power-house will be easily completed, it is thought, by March I.

The Erondway line is still further advanced. The street construction is almost completed. The powerhouse at Flitieth-st, and sixth-ave, is entirely fluished, and its great machinery and driving wheels stand in position charged with enormous operations are the continued of the cont its system into operation before that date.

and its great machinery and driving wheels stand in position charged with enormous potential energy. That at Broadway and Houstones, is also nearly completed, and its machinery is now being placed in position. It will contain four driving wheels, each thirty two feet in diameter, two being used at a time and two being reserved for emergencies.

STATE SENATOR OSEORNE NOT HELD.

THE COMMISSIONER ADJUDGES HIM NOT GUILTY OF FALSE REGISTRATION.

State Senator Edward B. Osborne, one of the bene ficiaries of the Democratic theft of the Senate a year ago, was discharged yesterday by Commissioner Shields, who decided him not guilty of filegal registration. On October 15 the Senator registered in the 11d Election District of the Fourth Ward of Poughheepele, giving the Nelson House as his home. As the proprietor of the hotel had no knowledge of the residence of Mr. Osborne there, a warrant for the arrest of the Senator was secured. In the examinations before Commis-

Mr. Baln, owner of the Nelson House, testified that he Senator had not boarded there since 1886. He ecosionally spent a night there, and any room that happened to be vacant was assigned to him. The defendant testified that he had voted in the same

After reviewing the evidence briefit, he wrote in closing: "I have arrived at the conclusion that this 21 Wolface, 350; shelton vs. Tiffen, 6 Howard (U. S.) 163, is a matter of intention on the part of the de-fendant, and in view of the fact that he had voted at this same polling place for thirty-nine years, and there is no proof to show that he registered or attempted to register or vote at any other place, and as in my judgment the residence of the defendant was voted at this place, I think he felt justified in registerthat time, and in my opinion there was no intent on that time, and in my opinion there was no intent on the part of the defendant fraudulently to register as charged, and that he should be discharged." The season may still be sent to the Federal Grand Jury. Mr. Mott said that he had not decided whether to press the Charge further or not. In his brief, Mr. Mott urged that Senator Osborne had clearly given up his residence in Poughkeepste and acquired a new one in Albany at the house of his son.

"You have been violators of the law a long time," was Mr. Wheele's reply, "You knew for months that you should put your wires into the subways."

"Then why don't you begin with the big telegraph companies!" returned Mr. Keily, "There are wires in Breadway and in Warren et. up without permits. Why don't you tackle them? This is perpermits. Why don't you tackle them? This is persecution and discrimination. The Board of Underwriters has given as permits in every instance."

The discussion between ex Judge Kelly and Mr.
Wheeler became so loud and furious that Mayor Grant got tired of it, and brought about a truce. After examining the regulations he said that perhaps time ought to be allowed on some of the Wires. He saggested that Mr. Dexter and ex Judge Kelly, for the company, and Mr. Wheeler and his inspectors, for the board, consult peaceably and agrees if possible on the wires to be let alone, until the company had an opportunity to show what legal claims they had to keeping up overhead wires. This suggestion resulted in an agreement exempting twelve or fifteen wires from
